

Telescoping Mast Applications

As the leading supplier of masts and mast equipment, Will-Burt's Telescoping Masts are used for hundreds of various applications worldwide. The following examples show some of the standard masts and how they are used.

Distributed by: Direction Technology, Inc.

PO Box 911, Centreville, Virginia 20122-0911

(703) 222-6275 Phone (703) 222-1096

email: dtione@erols.com

Vehicle transported guyed communications masts. Model shown is 112 foot (34 meter) model.

Military intelligence and electronic warfare.

Radio news gathering and outside broadcasting.

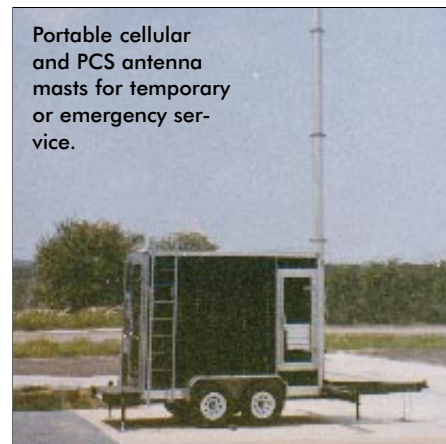

TV remote news gathering (ENG/SNV). Non-locking masts for line-of-sight microwave transmitting, receiving antennas and high level cameras.

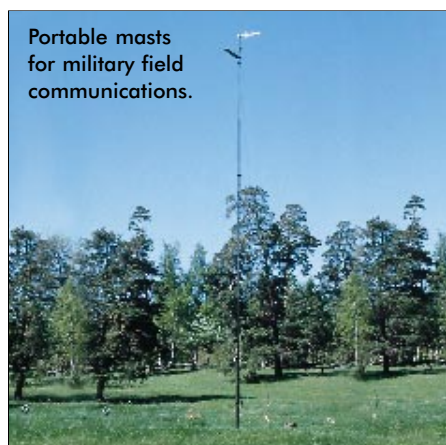

Elevated cameras, communications antennas and emergency lighting on mobile command post vehicles.

Emergency vehicles—quick erecting flood-light masts for illuminating fire-ground or rescue scenes.

Portable cellular and PCS antenna masts for temporary or emergency service.

Portable masts for military field communications.

Mobile military masts for target acquisition, jamming, surveillance and direction finding.

30 and 40 meter telescoping masts, trailer mounted for site testing.